ON BOARD: TECLA

ABOUT THE SHIP

One of the most splendid. Experts say this solid, authentic-rigged ship is not only one of the most beautiful herring loggers, but also a very good sailor. She has won several prizes during the Tall Ships Races and Regattas. Tecla can not be confined by borders since she she sails all over the world. She won her first Trans Atlantic Challenge, which is a race around the Atlantic. Tecla has crossed the Oceans and she goes whereve her crew wants her to go. She has rounded Cape of Good Hope, Cape Leeuwin, furthermore in 2013 she has rounded Cape Horn - an accomplishment not many Tall Ships can boast. Join her adventures. Be part of her crew.

HISTORY

This two-masted vessel was launched as the Graaf van Limburg Stirum and put into service for herring fishing. In 1925 the logger was taken out of commission. In 1935 she was sold to a Dane and renamed Tecla. A motor was built in and until 1978 the small coaster was transporting freight like grain, stones and fertilizer between different Danish islands. Meanwhile the ship has returned to the Netherlands and a considerable renovation gave it a new purpose as a sailing charter ship at sea.
